

333 OFFICERS
WERE KILLED

Very Heavy List of Casualties for British in the Jutland Battle

ELEVEN SHIPS LOST
PRACTICALLY ALL

German Claim of Victory Is Discounted by the British Admiralty

London, June 5.—A total of 333 officers were killed in the Jutland battle, according to the list issued by the admiralty today. Virtually all the officers of the cruisers Queen Mary, the Invincible, the Defense and the Black Prince and from the destroyers Tipperary, Turbulent, Fortune, Ardent, Noman, Nestor and Shark perished. All but one officer of the cruiser Warrior were saved, and all the officers on the destroyer Sparrowhawk.

The British officers' fleet, which participated in the Jutland battle and have returned, identify the two German battleships sunk as the Hindenburg and the Lutzow.

"GERMAN LOSSES
ARE HEAVIER THAN BRITAIN'S"

Is Statement Made By British Admiralty in Supplementing Other Reports of the Great Naval Battle—Declares German Stories False.

London, June 5.—A statement issued last night by the British admiralty, confirming previous accounts of the battle between the British and German fleets, reiterates that the German accounts of the German losses are false, and that although the evidence is still incomplete, enough is known to justify stating that the German losses were greater than the British "not merely relatively to the strength of the two fleets, but absolutely."

There is the strongest ground for believing, says the statement, that the German losses include two battleships, two dreadnought battle cruisers of the most powerful type and two of the latest light cruisers, in addition to smaller craft, including a submarine.

The text of the statement follows: "Until the commander-in-chief has had time to consult the officers engaged and write a full dispatch, any attempt to give a detailed history of the naval engagement which began on the afternoon of the thirty-first of May and ended in the morning hours of the first of June, would be premature. But the results are quite plain."

"The grand fleet came in touch with the German high sea fleet at 3:30 on the afternoon of May 31. The leading ships of the two fleets carried on a vigorous fight, in which the battle cruisers, fast battleships and subsidiary craft all took an active part."

"The losses were severe on both sides but when the main body of the British fleet came into contact with the German high sea fleet at 3:30 on the afternoon of May 31, the leading ships of the two fleets carried on a vigorous fight, in which the battle cruisers, fast battleships and subsidiary craft all took an active part."

"They continued the pursuit until the light had wholly failed, while the British destroyers were able to make a successful attack upon the enemy during the night."

"Meanwhile, Admiral Sir John Jellicoe, having driven the enemy into port, returned to the main scene of the action and scoured the sea in search of disabled vessels. By noon the next day, June 1, it became evident there was nothing more to be done. He returned therefore to his base, 400 miles away, refueled his fleet and in the evening of June 2 was again ready to put to sea."

"The British losses have already been fully stated. There is nothing to add to or subtract from the latest account published by the admiralty. The enemy losses are less easy to determine. That the accounts they have given to the world are false is certain, and we cannot yet be sure of the exact truth. But from such evidence as has come to our knowledge the admiralty entertains no doubt that the German losses are heavier than the British not merely relatively to the strength of the two fleets, but absolutely."

"There seems to be the strongest ground for supposing that included in the German losses are two battleships, two dreadnoughts, battle cruisers of the most powerful type, two of the latest light cruisers, the Wiesbaden and Elbing, a light cruiser of the Rostock type, the light cruiser Frauenlob, nine destroyers and a submarine."

The pessimism which prevailed as a result of the admiralty's original statement of losses, which is now considered to have been needlessly candid and conservative in under-estimating the extent of the German losses as compared with those of Great Britain has been greatly lessened by the latest statement."

A dispatch from Copenhagen says rumors are current in Hamburg that two additional German warships than those announced in the German communication—the Westfalen and the battle cruiser Lutzow—were sunk in the battle. A wireless dispatch received here Saturday from Berlin said the German admiralty admitted the loss of the Westfalen.

BODY RECOVERED.

John Nordello's Skull Was Fractured, Perhaps Going Over Dam.

Winoski, June 5.—The body of John Nordello, drowned in the river a week ago this afternoon, where he had been swimming, just below the upper dam, was found yesterday afternoon below the lower dam, opposite the carbonizing plant of the woolen mills, by Henry Beard, Jr., of Hyde street, Burlington. Beard had been looking for the body around that section of the river, down as far as the bridge below the old Athletic park, Saturday and all day yesterday. About 4:45 o'clock yesterday afternoon he saw the body floating down stream, face downward, on the north side of the island. He brought it to shore and notified Chief of Police Barber, who in turn notified Health Officer J. G. Thabault. Selectmen Arthur Manseau and Hector Huard. Upon their viewing the body it was ordered removed to the undertaking rooms of A. B. Lavigne.

The body, which was badly decomposed, had a deep gash about two inches long on the back of the head near the top, and the skull was crushed. These injuries may have been inflicted by striking on the rocks when he dove or they may have happened when he was carried over the lower falls. By witnesses who saw the young man going down when he was drowned, it was thought that he had then received injuries as he appeared to them as if dazed. At the undertaking rooms the remains were arranged for burial and were viewed by the family, together with many of his friends. About 8 o'clock last evening the body was interred in St. Stephen's cemetery.

The young man would have been 16 years old next month. He is survived by his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Nordello, and two sisters. He was in the seventh grade of the public schools and was a favorite among his fellow students.

FORT VAUX HELD
DESPITE FURY
OF GERMANS

Attackers Are Keeping Up Their Tremendous Offensive with Undiminished Violence, but French War Office Declares the Efforts Were Not Successful

BRUNT OF BATTLE
NEAR DAMLOUP

In Vicinity of Fort Douaumont, There Is Heavy Artillery Fighting—German Raids in the Vosges Were Unsuccessful—The British Lost Ground on Ypres Salient

Paris, June 5.—With undiminished violence, the Germans continued their attacks last night along the Verdun front, east of the Meuse. The war office report this afternoon says the assaults were unsuccessful. The Germans attacked French positions in the region of Vaux and Damloup.

Between the fort of Vaux and the village of Damloup the German offensive was particularly severe. The French still are in possession of Fort Vaux. In the vicinity of Douaumont there was heavy artillery fighting.

Unsuccessful German raids were undertaken in the Vosges.

Terrible Butchery in Ravine Before Vaux

In their repeated attacks on Fort Vaux and the outlying Verdun defenses, the Germans are hurling forward their infantry in masses so compact that the first lines are obliged to advance to certain death. The assaulting columns debouch from the village of Damloup and are obliged to cross a ravine to attack the slopes near the fort. For three days this spot has been the scene of a carnage which saturates the ground with blood. French officers declared that the butchery there surpasses imagination.

CANADIANS USE BAYONETS.

And Drive Germans Out of Part of Captured Trenches.

London, June 5.—The region of Vaux and Damloup, northeast of Verdun, has been the scene of further futile attempts of the Germans to pierce the French lines. All the attacks were set at naught by the French fire, except a night attack between Damloup and Fort Vaux, where the Germans obtained a foothold in French trenches. From these, however, they were immediately driven out by counter attack.

The Canadian troops and the Germans have been battling fiercely on the Ypres salient. The German guns opened up several days ago, deluging the Canadian positions and the surrounding territory with shells. The German infantry advanced along an extended front almost two miles, capturing trenches. In a

"COME HERE TO TRADE," THE SLOGAN AND INVITATION OF THE BARRE MERCHANTS

All Roads Will Lead to Barre During the Big Fare-Refunding Sale Week of June 17 to 24, Which Will Be Conducted Under the Auspices of The Times and the Merchants of This City—Coming Event Is Already Attracting Favorable Attention.

POSTPONED ONE WEEK.

In order that the merchants participating in The Times' co-operative fare-refunding sale and trade week, which was announced last week, may have more time to arrange their stocks and in other ways prepare to take care of all who come to Barre to trade during the big Saturday to Saturday trading event, the dates have been postponed one week, and will run from June 17 to 24, instead of from June 10 to 17.

"Come to Barre to trade," is now the slogan to be used by every one of our merchants. Shut it so loud that it can be heard for miles in every direction, and let the people of the middle section of the state know what this big co-operative trading event will mean to them.

That this big co-operative trade week will be a great success from every point of view is attested by the character of the firms that have already united in the movement and have agreed to refund the fares on the co-operative plan to all out-of-town customers during the big Saturday to Saturday sale.

These merchants are planning to make this actually the greatest trading opportunity ever known in Barre or anywhere in the state of Vermont.

Fare-Refunding Plan.

Special attention is called to the fare-refunding feature of this big co-operative sale. Under the arrangements, fares are to be refunded to all out-of-town customers who do their shopping in Barre during this sale. Persons coming to Barre from any of the towns listed in ries of counter attacks, in which bomb and bayonet played an important part, the Canadians regained most of the lost ground and have reorganized their positions.

On the Russian front violent artillery duels are going on in the Bessarabian and Volhynian sectors. Several Russian infantry attacks against the Austrians were repulsed.

The Italians in the region of Asiario are holding the Austrians from further advances in the desperate struggle that is going on in this region. The Austrians with large effective attempts to break through the Italian line in the direction of Onaro, but were driven back. The bombardments are still heavy on the other sectors of the Austro-Italian front.

According to unofficial advices from Saloniki, General Sarraill, the French commander, has declared martial law in the entire zone occupied by the entente allies and the allied troops have taken over the telegraph-offices, the port and customs house at Saloniki.

CHURCH DEBT WIPED OUT.

Feature of Grace Church Dedication at St. Johnsbury.

St. Johnsbury, June 5.—The new Grace Methodist Episcopal church was fittingly dedicated yesterday, the dedicatory service last night being conducted by Bishop John W. Hamilton. The pastors of all the churches participating in the exercises. Heavy showers kept many away from the morning service, which was in charge of Bishop Hamilton, and his sermon led up to the raising of the church debt of $30,000, which was an interesting feature of all the services of the day.

At the afternoon service, Rev. Thomas Tyrrie of Harvardsville, Conn., pastor of Grace church for five years, preached a strong sermon on power. The church was crowded at the evening service, the devotional exercises being conducted by four of the St. Johnsbury pastors. Bishop Hamilton preached the sermon, and after the presentation of the building by the trustees, the bishop dedicated the church.

Music for the various services was furnished by the male quartet and a mixed quartet from the church, and Frank L. Crain of Laconia, N. H., presided at the organ.

REMEDY HAD FATAL EFFECT

Mrs. E. W. Kittredge of Northfield Died While Seeking Relief from Asthma

LONG A SUFFERER
FROM THE AILMENT

She Inhaled Chloroform and Ether After She Had Taken Chloroform Tablets

Northfield, June 5.—Mrs. Winnifred Kittredge, wife of E. W. Kittredge, died Sunday morning as the result of inhaling chloroform and ether in an attempt to gain relief from asthma, from which she had been a sufferer for a long time. For the ailment the woman was accustomed to take chloroform tablets frequently at night.

Early Sunday morning Mrs. Kittredge felt a serious attack of asthma and she aroused her husband, who, as usual, prepared the medicine and gave it to his wife. Then he returned to bed while his wife remained propped up in bed. Mr. Kittredge fell asleep and at 7 o'clock was awakened by their little daughter. The woman was leaning out of the bed with her head resting against a large trunk. She was still breathing and Mr. Kittredge called a physician. Before the doctor arrived Mrs. Kittredge was dead.

When he was awakened Mr. Kittredge found a bottle containing a combination of chloroform and ether in the woman's hand. Mrs. Kittredge having used that when she did not get relief from the other remedy. It is the theory of the physician that Mrs. Kittredge, not getting relief from the medicine which her husband had prepared, secured the combination of chloroform and ether and began to inhale it when she was overcome, the previous remedy having begun to have its effect at the same time. The rumor of suicide was refuted by the physician.

Mrs. Kittredge was born in Roxbury 37 years ago, being the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Briggs, who now reside in Northfield Falls. Besides her husband she leaves a daughter, Juanita, aged two years; and two brothers, Frank Briggs of Lowell, Mass., and Bert Briggs of St. Albans. The last named is at present in Denver attending a convention of railway men; and the arrangements for the funeral will not be completed until word is received from him.

WOMEN'S MISSION OPENED

At St. Monica's Church When Large Audience Heard Rev. F. J. Moore.

A mission for the women of St. Monica's church began last evening with a large congregation of parishioners who gathered to hear the opening homily of a series of sermons to be delivered throughout the present week. Rev. Father F. J. Moore of Worcester, Mass., was the preacher at the evening service. Father Moore also preached at both masses in the morning and assisted the parish priest, Rev. P. M. McKenna, in the services during the day. It is expected that Rev. Father O'Brien, also of Worcester, will arrive in Barre to-morrow to assist his colleague in the mission. Both priests are eloquent speakers and in the case of Father Moore it is said that St. Monica's is fortunate in securing a clergyman who is widely known in many eastern dioceses by his writings and preachings. The visiting priests will preach at the morning masses this week at 5 and 8 o'clock and again each evening at 7:30 o'clock.

The missionaries are to remain in the city for a fortnight, as plans have been made for a men's mission next week, beginning Sunday evening.

SHOT HIS BROTHER
IN A QUARREL

Tragedy Took Place in Rutland County and the Victim Has a Chance to Recover—Assailant Caught.

Rutland, June 5.—Before several of his friends, who will probably appear against him when placed on trial, Vincenzo Verono, known as Frank Waldo, of Florence, a marble worker, shot his brother, James Verono, through the lower abdomen with a 38-calibre revolver bullet following a fist encounter between the men yesterday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bigno in Florence. The would-be murderer then ran to the home of Harry Houston, where he hid under a bed, there being found an hour later by Constable James E. Tennien of Pittsford, who brought the man to the house of correction in this city.

The injured man was treated by Dr. H. H. Swift of Pittsford soon after the shooting, which occurred about 4:30 o'clock and was later removed to the Proctor hospital, where it is said he has a chance to recover. The bullet entered just to the left of the lower abdomen and penetrated the intestine, coming out the back. A second shot fired by Verono at his brother did not take effect.

The men had been having some trouble previous to yesterday but the exact cause of their differences is not known. It was suggested it might have been over family money matters. James, the injured man, is 30 years old, while his brother is six years younger. Neither had been drinking to any extent. About 3 o'clock the prisoner stopped at the home of Charles Rock in Florence and inquired for his brother, being informed that James was at the home of Joseph Bigno. The two had been in the house but a short time together when it is claimed by witnesses, Frank started the trouble. The men were told to leave the house by the owner. They obeyed but after they reached the open air they began a fist fight, the younger man being the aggressor. Soon Frank was seen to grab his brother around the neck. Holding him with one arm and drawing a revolver with the other he shot him once through the body and when victim was falling the revolver was discharged again.

PICNIC DESPITE RAIN.

Burns Club Members and Friends Were at Caledonia Park Saturday.

The Burns club held its annual picnic Saturday at Caledonia park, the weather clearing up enough to allow the races and football game to go on, but rain broke up the baseball game in the third inning. The outing was much enjoyed despite the inclement weather. Dancing and games were kept up almost continuously in the pavilion during the afternoon.

The results of the games were as follows:

Children's race—Howard Douglas, Robina McDonald, Arthur Sangster.
Girls' race—Osa McDonald, Mary McDonald, Lizzie Munro.
Boys' race—Albert Christie, Alex Lilly, Charles Lee.

Ladies' race—Mrs. Munroe, Mrs. J. McKernan, Miss Josie Will.
In the football game the married men (captained by William Dean) defeated the single men (captained by James Cobban) by five goals to two. Christie and Cobban featured for the losers, while Angus McDonald's goal for the married men goes down in history.

When rain broke up the baseball game, the score stood 4 to 1 for the single men. Leal and Cobban did the battery work for the winners and Booth and Cornack for the losers. Umpire James Mitchell's work was the feature of the ball game, his decisions nearly causing a riot at times.

Before the gathering dispersed, a vote of thanks was given to the committee, chairmaned by President Hugh Christie, for their work to make the outing a success.

Tennney Co. Acquires the Phelps Mill on Upper Washington Street

TENTH PURCHASE
IN FOUR YEARS

Plans for Development Are Not Revealed at Present

To its several power holding companies, the C. H. Tennney Co., which controls the Barre and Montpelier Traction & Power Co., the Barre Light & Power Co., has acquired the Phelps mill property at the east end of Washington street, the deal having been consummated Saturday preparatory to the registration of the transfer deeds to-day. The transaction includes the mill building used by Arthur Phelps for custom sawing and the power privileges that are an adjunct to the plant on Jail branch. All told, the Tennney company has absorbed 10 waterpowers in this section of Vermont since the first purchase was made Nov. 12, 1912.

When interviewed to-day, Manager H. D. Larrabee said that the company purchased the property because of its proximity to the Barre power market. No plans for the immediate development of the plant have been completed, he went on, and for the time being Mr. Phelps will be permitted to use the mill and the power. Later, it was intimated, the Tennney company will take over the entire plant and possibly make improvements.

Just now there are a large number of logs on hand at the mill and there is a busy summer in prospect for Mr. Phelps and his helpers. The property has been in the possession of the Phelps family for many years and an immense amount of lumber has been its output. It is said that there is an opportunity for further development of the mill privileges at the point where the dam is located. Manager Larrabee stated that the company preferred not to name the price paid for the property. He said that engineers will be asked to make a careful survey of the stand in order to obtain detailed data as to the possibilities of development, storage capacity of the mill pond and other information.

DEATH OF MRS. PETER THOM

Occurred Last Evening Following a Shock Earlier in the Day.

Mrs. Addie Thom, wife of Peter Thom, passed away at her home, 171 North Seminary street, Sunday evening at 9:30 o'clock, the end following a shock which she sustained in the forenoon at 11:45 o'clock. Mrs. Thom had been in declining health for some time. She is survived by her husband, a son, Harry Page of Suffield, Conn., and two sisters, Mrs. Fannie Gold of Barre and Mrs. Merrill Eastman, also of this city. Two nieces, Mrs. John Mack of Westboro, Mass., and Mrs. John Stevens of Sharon, are also left.

Mrs. Thom was born Addie Foster in East Orange, March 17, 1859. She had resided in Barre more than 40 years, coming here as a young woman. Her marriage to Mr. Thom took place in 1898. She was a member of the First Presbyterian church and belonged to the ladies' aid society of that church. A large circle of acquaintances held her in high esteem and the news of her untimely passing has brought sorrow to many.

Funeral services will be held at the house Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. It is requested that flowers be omitted. Her son, Harry Page, and his wife are expected to arrive in the city late this afternoon.

DAUGHTER LOCATED.

But She Did Not Return to Funeral of Her Father, George Cozens.

The funeral of George Cozens, a Berlin farmer who committed suicide in his barn by shooting last Friday afternoon, was held from his late home this afternoon. Rev. J. E. Taylor of the People's church, officiating. The bearers were William, Arthur and Robert Inalls and George Richardson, all of Berlin. Interment was in the Berlin village cemetery.

Mr. Cozens' daughter, whose disappearance is said to have been one of the actuating motives for his suicide, was located in Trenton, N. J., but she did not return home. She left home three weeks ago.
